

Birds and Bees Basics for Parents

A Workshop for Parents of Preschoolers and those who work with children

Being a parent never came with a rule book, and when it comes to explaining the world of sexual health to your Preschool age child, it can be hard not to end up a bright shade of red. That's exactly why Saleema Noon and her group of Sexual Health Educators offer this early education course specifically for parents of Preschoolers.

This foundation-setting session will show parents how to overcome embarrassment when talking to young children about sexual health, with words and concepts that are easy to use. The content covered will guide parents in how to educate children as they discover their bodies and feelings, and will communicate how to effectively answer the questions they are sure to ask. Using humor and straight talk in an open, interactive environment, we'll show you how easy it is to convey healthy, meaningful messages about sexual health.
